

LAST EDITION.

SCANDAL IS GROWING

Another Charge Made Against House Physician Donovan.

Photographer Max Borsuk Says Money Was Demanded of Him.

His Wife Was an Inmate of Governor Hospital.

A fresh accusation of extortion was to-day made against Dr. William F. Donovan, house physician of Governor Hospital.

DR. WILLIAM F. DONOVAN.

Borsuk was disinclined to talk much about the matter. A charge of extortion that he had previously made had been circulated by Borsuk's friends. He at first denied this to-day and said the rumor of his having made such a charge was erroneous.

Max Borsuk, a photographer of 92 Norfolk street, whose wife was among those injured during the panic in the synagogue building, 87 Ludlow street, last Friday, told an Evening World reporter this morning that Dr. Donovan had demanded money from him.

When the reporter descended the stairs Mr. Borsuk said: "That man Borsuk has either tied to you or to me. He told me that a doctor at the Governor Hospital had demanded and received money from him."

"Why did you make a statement to me," demanded Klinkenstein of Borsuk, "which might ruin the Governor Hospital doctor for life unless you had good reason for uttering it?"

"Well, I was afraid," stammered Borsuk, "to tell the truth to the reporter."

"Then," said Klinkenstein, "you had better hurry and tell the whole truth."

Had to Pay to See His Wife.

"This is the truth," said Borsuk. "When I called at the hospital last Friday I was not allowed to see my wife. The next day a doctor told me very brusquely that if I wanted to see my wife I would have to pay for the privilege. He said he would be satisfied with $10. I could only give him $2, but promised to pay him the other $8 next day."

"My reason for not wishing to make a statement of this nature for publication was because I was afraid that my wife, who is still at the hospital, might be treated worse if I made such a statement."

"I was at the hospital yesterday," continued Borsuk, "but the doctor did not demand the balance of the money that I had promised him. Neither did I pay it to him."

Borsuk said he did not know the name of the doctor, but he described Dr. Donovan.

Another startling revelation connected with the Governor Hospital scandal was made to an Evening World reporter this morning by Samuel Friedman, the seventeen-year-old boy who made the following affidavit and statement last Saturday:

WEBSTER'S ORDEAL.

His Trial for Killing Goodwin Will End To-Day.

A Verdict Is Expected to Be Reached To-Night.

Evidence All Closed and Arguments by Counsel Begun.

The last scenes in the second trial of Burton Webster on the charge that he shot and killed Charles E. Goodwin in the Federal hall on August 2, 1891, were enacted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer to-day.

Before Justice Ingraham, a jury and an audience of curious people lined only by the seating capacity of the chamber.

Webster, flushed rather than pale, his eyes bloodshot and his expression strained, was surrounded by strangers.

Evelyn Granville, the mother of his babe, and the "common law wife," an alleged insult to the honor of the dead, were seated to the right of the defendant.

The testimony was nearly concluded Saturday morning. To-day Mr. Howe, of counsel for Webster, called William H. Coyne, special officer at the Colman House; John S. Campbell, of Campbell & Walcott, the attorneys; George H. Kline, of Kline & Kline; and George Gorman and Nathan May, the tailor, all of whom testified to the good character of Webster and his peaceful, kindhearted disposition.

That concluded the case for the defense. The prosecution recalled Mrs. Wade to rebut some unimportant statements of Fanny Romanne regarding her morphine habit.

Capt. Adam A. Cross, of the Midridge street station, but at the time of the shooting in command of the Twentieth Precinct, was called.

Capt. Cross took a statement from Fanny Romanne and Evelyn Granville Webster August 7, five days after the homicide.

"I made any correction that either of them suggested, and here is what Fanny Romanne said," testified the Captain.

"The prosecution recalled Mrs. Wade to rebut some unimportant statements of Fanny Romanne regarding her morphine habit."

"Mrs. Wade said," Mr. Webster was standing in the doorway. Mr. Goodwin was in the middle of the door with a cuspidor in his hand. A cuspidor was thrown at Mr. Webster. He caught it and threw it back. He knew that it was back against the woodwork of the door and broke all to pieces."

On the witness stand in this trial both of these women testified that they did not see the cuspidor thrown.

Young Arthur H. Goodwin, recalled, testified that there was no cuspidor in the room. He was seated at the desk at 5.30 that afternoon when Charles set out with him and his bride for the railway station.

Both sides having completed the evidence at 11.45 Lawyer Hogan began his plea for the defense.

The case against Webster is much stronger than the former trial, but the rulings of the Court have been very rigid and Mr. Howe has taken no less than seventy-three exceptions, in the event of a conviction, is confident that he can obtain a new trial on those exceptions.

The arguments will all be concluded, and the case probably will be given to the jury this afternoon. A prompt verdict is hoped for.

Mr. Howe spoke one hour and forty-five minutes, and Mr. Cross, Assistant District Attorney Francis L. Wellman began his summing up.

MRS. HARRISON'S CONDITION.

No Material Change Noted Since the Last Report.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—It is reported at the White House this morning that there has been no material change in Mrs. Harrison's condition since the last report.

Bank Robbers Fight a Possess.

TACOMA, Sept. 26.—The posse came upon four of the Royston Bank robbers in a dense forest in Lewisville basin, twenty miles east of Tacoma, and one of the desperadoes was wounded. The others escaped. The desperadoes were armed with revolvers and shotguns. The posse consisted of about twenty men.

Local News in Brief.

Six Chinamen were fined $10 each by Justice McManus for gambling at a card game. They were fined for playing a game of cards in a public place.

Stimulus Wagon, twenty-four years old, of the New York Central, was found in a dense forest in Lewisville basin, twenty miles east of Tacoma, and one of the desperadoes was wounded. The others escaped.

Stimulus Wagon, twenty-four years old, of the New York Central, was found in a dense forest in Lewisville basin, twenty miles east of Tacoma, and one of the desperadoes was wounded. The others escaped.

GROVER'S LETTER.

His Formal Acceptance Will Be Given Out To-Night.

Anti-Snappers To Meet the National Committee To-Morrow.

Populists Hailing to Syracuse to Hold a State Convention.

Campaign Director Don M. Dickinson, who returned this morning from Hazzard's Bay, where he had been to consult ex-President Cleveland, brought positive information about Mr. Cleveland's letter of acceptance and the candidate's proposed visit to the city.

After a conference with ex-Secretary Whitney Mr. Dickinson, said to an Evening World reporter that he had the letter in his inside pocket and that it would be given to the press at 9 o'clock to-night.

"I can state with authority," Mr. Dickinson declared, "that Mr. Cleveland will be in the city Thursday. No date has yet been fixed for his visit to New York. He will be here soon, however."

It was said that Mr. Cleveland was coming here to discuss the Grace third ticket, and that, too, is denied. The candidate's friends claim that he cannot afford to mix himself up in local affairs, but since the Anti-Snappers have decided to consult with and ask the advice of the National Committee in the matter, their case will be considered by the committee, not by Mr. Cleveland.

The sub-committee of the Anti-Snappers appointed to enter with the National Committee will call by appointment at headquarters to-morrow. In accordance with opinions expressed by Chairman Carter, the Anti-Snappers will be asked to keep hands off the local campaign, as in the opinion of the campaign directors an Anti-Snapper local ticket would injure the National ticket.

Mr. Grover has said that, on the contrary, an independent movement would not be cast for Cleveland that would not be cast for Grover. It is said that Grover will have to wait until after the third ticket is made.

Uninformed politicians say that the conference will result in "no verdict," and that Mr. Grover, who is determined to have the blood of the Tiger in his veins, will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

Chairman Murphy, of the Democratic State Committee, who is in the city to-day, issued a call for a meeting of the party to be held Friday evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals. Associate Justice Rufus W. Peckham of the Court of Appeals will be a candidate for the nomination.

Chairman Murphy has issued a call this week for a meeting of the Republican State Committee to nominate a candidate for Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals.

"Dave" Martin, of Philadelphia, has disappeared, and recent Republicans are disappointed. He was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

No surprise was caused in political circles this morning by the news that Mr. Martin had resigned. He was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

When the club waited for the National Committee to meet, it was found that this was not the case. The club waited for the National Committee to meet, but it was found that this was not the case.

The County Democrat has lost another active worker. Leon Cohen, who was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

The movement to nominate a third local ticket, has resigned from the County Democrat. He was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

Represented the Twentieth Precinct in the latter body. Cohen declares his intention to vote for Harrison and Reed.

The B. Williams Brown, of the Second Assembly District, has been organized at their headquarters, 72 Nassau street, by a number of members. The organization was organized for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

The County Democrat has lost another active worker. Leon Cohen, who was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

The movement to nominate a third local ticket, has resigned from the County Democrat. He was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

Represented the Twentieth Precinct in the latter body. Cohen declares his intention to vote for Harrison and Reed.

The B. Williams Brown, of the Second Assembly District, has been organized at their headquarters, 72 Nassau street, by a number of members. The organization was organized for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

The County Democrat has lost another active worker. Leon Cohen, who was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

The movement to nominate a third local ticket, has resigned from the County Democrat. He was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

Represented the Twentieth Precinct in the latter body. Cohen declares his intention to vote for Harrison and Reed.

The B. Williams Brown, of the Second Assembly District, has been organized at their headquarters, 72 Nassau street, by a number of members. The organization was organized for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

The County Democrat has lost another active worker. Leon Cohen, who was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

The movement to nominate a third local ticket, has resigned from the County Democrat. He was a prominent member of the party and was expected to be a candidate for the office of Justice of the Court of Appeals.

CORRIGAN MAY BE A CARDINAL.

Rumor in Paris That He Will Be Advanced in the Church.

Paris, Sept. 26.—It is rumored in high religious circles in this city that Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, and Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, Minn., will be made Cardinals at the coming Papal Consistory.

The next Consistory is to be held at the end of November. Four Italians, three French and two other Cardinals will then be created, according to previous announcement.

An Evening World reporter called at the archiepiscopal residence, at Fifth street and Madison avenue, this morning, and was informed by the doorman who answered his ring that both Archbishop Corrigan and his secretary, Father Connolly, were out of the city and would not return for several days.

HID THE CHILD SIX MONTHS.

Gerry Society Had Sought Her and Found Her To-Day.

Agents of the Gerry Society captured a child to-day for whom search has been going on for the past six months. The child is Mary Little Keeley, whose parents are both dead, and who has been concealed from the agents of the Society by her grandmother, Mrs. Hosanna Keeley.

The child was found in the rear part of the room at 501 Greenwich street, where she had been hiding for three days. It was said, and she was so weakened that she had to be carried out of the house.

The grandmother is not able to provide for her, and yet she clings to the child frantically and tried to fight the officers when they came to take her. She was finally taken from the room of Little Mary's brothers and sisters, who have already been cared for by the Society, but the grandmother had so carefully concealed the child that it was not until this morning that the agents would find it. The old woman herself completely disappeared from their view.

The child will be sent to Hannah's Island, where she will be placed in a public charge. Despite the ill-treatment which she has received, she did not seem to want to leave her grandmother.

COUSIN OF LINCOLN BADLY HURT.

Dennis Hanks, Aged 95, Who Taught the Future Martyr to Read.

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 26.—Dennis Hanks, a cousin of Abraham Lincoln, is lying at the home of Mrs. Shouff, in Paris, this State, injured from a fall. He is ninety-five years old, and has been ailing for some time. He was knocked down by a runaway team on Thursday last. As he is ninety-five years of age, it is feared that he will not survive the injury and shock.

Mr. Hanks gave to his afterwards distinguished and martyred cousin his first lessons in reading and writing. On account of his relation to the great emancipator, he has been held in great reverence by the colored people of this State, and it was with returning from an Emancipation day demonstration, held by the negroes of Eastern Illinois, that he was knocked down and injured.

He has been brought to the city and is now lying at the home of Mrs. Shouff, in Paris, this State. He is ninety-five years old, and has been ailing for some time. He was knocked down by a runaway team on Thursday last. As he is ninety-five years of age, it is feared that he will not survive the injury and shock.

Mr. Hanks gave to his afterwards distinguished and martyred cousin his first lessons in reading and writing. On account of his relation to the great emancipator, he has been held in great reverence by the colored people of this State, and it was with returning from an Emancipation day demonstration, held by the negroes of Eastern Illinois, that he was knocked down and injured.

He has been brought to the city and is now lying at the home of Mrs. Shouff, in Paris, this State. He is ninety-five years old, and has been ailing for some time. He was knocked down by a runaway team on Thursday last. As he is ninety-five years of age, it is feared that he will not survive the injury and shock.

Mr. Hanks gave to his afterwards distinguished and martyred cousin his first lessons in reading and writing. On account of his relation to the great emancipator, he has been held in great reverence by the colored people of this State, and it was with returning from an Emancipation day demonstration, held by the negroes of Eastern Illinois, that he was knocked down and injured.

He has been brought to the city and is now lying at the home of Mrs. Shouff, in Paris, this State. He is ninety-five years old, and has been ailing for some time. He was knocked down by a runaway team on Thursday last. As he is ninety-five years of age, it is feared that he will not survive the injury and shock.

Mr. Hanks gave to his afterwards distinguished and martyred cousin his first lessons in reading and writing. On account of his relation to the great emancipator, he has been held in great reverence by the colored people of this State, and it was with returning from an Emancipation day demonstration, held by the negroes of Eastern Illinois, that he was knocked down and injured.

He has been brought to the city and is now lying at the home of Mrs. Shouff, in Paris, this State. He is ninety-five years old, and has been ailing for some time. He was knocked down by a runaway team on Thursday last. As he is ninety-five years of age, it is feared that he will not survive the injury and shock.

Mr. Hanks gave to his afterwards distinguished and martyred cousin his first lessons in reading and writing. On account of his relation to the great emancipator, he has been held in great reverence by the colored people of this State, and it was with returning from an Emancipation day demonstration, held by the negroes of Eastern Illinois, that he was knocked down and injured.

He has been brought to the city and is now lying at the home of Mrs. Shouff, in Paris, this State. He is ninety-five years old, and has been ailing for some time. He was knocked down by a runaway team on Thursday last. As he is ninety-five years of age, it is feared that he will not survive the injury and shock.

Mr. Hanks gave to his afterwards distinguished and martyred cousin his first lessons in reading and writing. On account of his relation to the great emancipator, he has been held in great reverence by the colored people of this State, and it was with returning from an Emancipation day demonstration, held by the negroes of Eastern Illinois, that he was knocked down and injured.

He has been brought to the city and is now lying at the home of Mrs. Shouff, in Paris, this State. He is ninety-five years old, and has been ailing for some time. He was knocked down by a runaway team on Thursday last. As he is ninety-five years of age, it is feared that he will not survive the injury and shock.

LAST EDITION.

NO PLAGUE IN SIGHT.

There Are No Cases in Town or Down the Bay.

Dr. Jenkins Fears No Conflict with Federal Authorities.

Seventy-five Cases of Measles on the Steamer Stonington.

Health Department, New York, Sept. 26.—10 A. M.

Official: No cases of cholera have appeared in this city since the last report.

It was said at the Health Department this morning that all the cases of suspected cholera which had been reported since Saturday and taken to Reception Hospital or investigated by Sanitary Inspectors had proved to be cholera morbus or other ailments distinctly different from Asiatic cholera.

"The cholera is stamped out in New York," said an official. The Commissioner and others at the Board seemed very cheerful as to the outlook.

Tenants at 309 East Ninth street have been in a state of excitement for several days on account of the death of Benedicto Palecetti, an Italian tailor who lived there, suddenly last Wednesday night. His wife and child went away the same night, and have not been seen since. About 1 o'clock in the morning, within a few hours after the man died, a dead woman drove up to the house and took the body away. The body had been lying in an ice-box, which was left behind and the door locked.

No case of cholera has been reported since Saturday. The Italian tailor had died of cholera, and believed that his body was removed at night to keep the death a secret.

It was found upon investigation that Palecetti died from pneumonia, and that his body was removed by the city's dead wagon and interred in Potter's Field.

IN JENKINS'S JURISDICTION.

Secretary Foster Has No Authority Till a Ship Is Discharged.

QUANICA, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The Health Officer, declares that the order of Secretary Foster directing the landing of passengers from the steamships Hermann and Atlantic at Camp Low, cannot take effect until the ships have been released by the Health Officer.

"The Secretary cannot mean that this order shall be carried out until the ships have been discharged by me," said Dr. Jenkins, "for they are exclusively in my jurisdiction until that occurs, and I shall maintain the rights of the State of New York at all hazards."

THE STATUS AT QUARANTINE.

Not a Case of Cholera Has Developed in the Last Five Days.

QUARANTINE, N. Y., Sept. 26.—No reports had been received by Dr. Jenkins up to 9.30 this morning from the ships and hospital islands in the lower bay.

Photographed that every body on the Scandia, Bohemia and Wyoming were all right, and that the patients on Swabian Island were all out of danger.

This leaves the cholera record at quarantine and Camp Low unchanged for Saturday.

At the quarantine, Dr. Theodor Walther, of the Scandia, Bohemia and Wyoming, were all right, and that the patients on Swabian Island were all out of danger.

"Taking of the outlook, Dr. Theodor Walther, of the Scandia, Bohemia and Wyoming, were all right, and that the patients on Swabian Island were all out of danger."

While the prospect and present circumstances were encouraging, both he and his colleagues were still on the lookout for possible outbreaks on ships coming from infected ports.

Although the steamer is not yet released, the plague may reach our shores among the passengers. On this point, every body is well.

Dr. Walther yesterday was engaged in transferring the cases of measles on the Scandia, Bohemia and Wyoming to the hospital islands.

Ships That Are Now Detained.

Beside the Rugs, Normania, Moravia and Hawaii, these four steamships are detained at Upper Quarantine this morning. The German tank Elise Marie from Hamburg, Sept. 25, is detained at Upper Quarantine.

Other ships at Upper Quarantine this morning are the Nevada, from Liverpool, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30.

The Nevada, from Liverpool, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30.

The Nevada, from Liverpool, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30; the Elise Marie, from Hamburg, arrived at 7.30.